

Call for Applications: ISBD Financial Support for Participation in the World Buffalo Congress 2026

The Indian Society for Buffalo Development (ISBD) invites applications from its members for financial support to participate in the World Buffalo Congress 2026, to be held in Sorrento, Italy, from 28–30 October 2026, <https://wbc2026.org/index.php/registration>

To encourage international participation and promote buffalo research and development, the Central Executive Committee (CEC) of ISBD has approved financial support for three delegates from India to participate in the Congress.

Each selected delegate will receive minimum financial assistance of ₹20,000 towards participation in the Congress. The final amount of support, if any, shall be decided by the CEC, subject to the availability of funds.

Eligibility

Applicants should:

- Be a life member of ISBD. Student applicants are exempt from this requirement and may apply even if they are not Life Members of ISBD.
- Be actively engaged in buffalo research and development.

Preference will be given to applicants delivering invited presentations. Applicants with accepted oral or poster presentations will also be given due consideration. Researchers actively contributing to buffalo research and development, even if they are attending the Congress without a presentation, are also eligible to apply.

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following to the Secretary, ISBD, mail id: drsaritanrce@gmail.com, phone number 9034439144

- Covering letter requesting financial support.
- Brief curriculum vitae (maximum two pages).
- Copy of the invitation/acceptance letter for the presentation (if there).

- Any supporting documents highlighting contributions to buffalo research and development.

Applications will be placed before the Central Executive Committee (CEC) of ISBD, whose decision regarding the selection of delegates and the financial assistance shall be final.

Last Date for Submission of Applications: 25.07.2026
